GROW Learning Outcomes
Graduate students attending GROW should be able to:

1 - Indicate who, what, and where to go on campus to handle routine business, solve common problems, and deal with difficult situations that might emerge.
2 - Describe appropriate parameters of professional behavior relating to research, teaching, and study as a graduate student.
3 - Develop a plan for the first day teaching and an approach to the first weeks of study and research.
4 - Express a familiarity with UC Merced policies and procedures, and the implications for learning, teaching, research, and service.
5 - Indicate the social community available to UCM graduate students, including knowing their GSA officers and union reps.
